

Action sensitivity by validation stratum

Higher means changing the action sequence changes the generated future more. This measures action use, not correctness.